ALPHA PHI GAMMA, CIPA CONVENTION IN LONG BEACH

Four members of the Pacific chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity, attended the western division's annual meeting in Long Beach on March 2-3. The Alpha Phi Gamma meeting was held in conjunction with the California Intercollegiate Press Association.

Long Beach State College was host to the convention; meetings were held on the campus and at the Lafayette Hotel. Pacific delegates were Beverly Lloyd, Sally East, Lewis Stewart, and Cliff Whelden.

Friday's agenda included meetings of the recommendations, nominations and delegations committees. The banquet speaker was Mr. Jose Rodriguez, chief editorial writer of the Los Angeles Examiner.

STURDAY

Saturday's activities began with a general assembly, followed by writing contests in the fields of editorial and news, sports and features. These contests were judged by William Holzhauser, news editor of the Los Angeles Mirror-News; Al Santoro, sports editor of the Los Angeles Examiner; the interviewee was Agnes Underwood, city editor of the Los Angeles Herald-Express.

Following lunch more round table discussions were held in the fields of editorial, yearbook, and advertising problems, led by members of the staff of the Independent Press-Telegram. In the afternoon, the general assembly and Alpha Phi Gamma meetings were held at which time new officers were elected.

George Putnam, newscaster for KTTV, was guest speaker at the final banquet.

Approximately 130 journalists attended from sixteen California colleges. Next year's convention will be held in San Jose.

COP PROGRESS OUTLINED TO PACIFIC ASSOC.

Student enrollment at College of the Pacific is expected to advance 15% and academic requirements will be "raised slightly" next year, Mrs. C. W. Peterson of Tracy told the Pacific Associates at their third annual meeting here Saturday.

College president Robert E. Burns said in the key address of the meeting that construction has started in accordance with the dormitory building project which will make room for 480 students "in the next two years." He said an enrollment of 1750 full-time students is expected by 1960. The present enrollment figure is about 1100.

ALEX McRAE

The college-boosting organization elected Alex McRae of Stockton as president to succeed Simpson H. Hornage of Stockton, who headed the group for two years.

Other officers named were Tom Connolly, Jr. of Stockton re-elected as vice-president, and Robert T. Monagan of Tracy, secretary-treasurer.

Pacific Home Economics students and teaching staff, headed by department chairman Edna Gehlken, presented "modern curriculum" in this field for the Associates.

School of Pharmacy Dean Ivan W. Rowland said the school will develop an enrollment of 150, and can win proper accreditation by "selecting well qualified students, developing a top standard staff, a fine professional library, and excellent physical facilities."

Associates members attended "The Imaginary Invalid" at Pacific Theatre to conclude the day.

French Comedy Ends Saturday

"Imaginary Invalid" by Moliere, which opened last weekend, will be performed for the last time tonight, March 9 and tomorrow night, March 10 in the Pacific Theatre.

This comedy, which freely pokes fun at doctors, features Pacific's best talent. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. and tickets can be reserved in advance by phoning the Pacific Theatre.

Educational Conference

The California Council on Teachers Education and the California Junior College Association are sponsoring regional conferences for lower division students.

The purpose of these conferences is to discuss proposed lower division courses for elementary teachers both in junior colleges and four year colleges so the units will be transferable.

Attending the second conference, which will be at University of California at Berkeley on March 10, will be Dr. Jantzen, Dr. Lehman, Dr. Kraus, Mrs. Hodgins, Mrs. Harbert, Mr. White, Miss Madson, Dr. King, and Mr. Learned. Dr. Jantzen is chairman of the California Council on Teacher Education.

WORLD POLITICS GROUP BEGUN SPONSORED BY COP, STOCKTON

The Stockton World Politics Discussion group will be organized here Wednesday evening, March 14, at the College of the Pacific.

The political education program for adults is presented by University of California Extension and the American Foundation for Political Education in cooperation with the College of the Pacific and the Stockton public library.

Members of the group will hold weekly meetings on an informal, neighborhood basis to discuss world problems and political issues.

Everyone who enrolls will receive a three volume set of books containing the works of such men as Churchill, Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, Marx, Lenin, Lincoln, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Dwight D. Eisenhower, and others, representing every important political point of view.

TOPICS

Topics for discussion at the meetings include the causes of war, democracy, communism, power politics, international organization and world government.

Discussion leaders for the Stockton program will be Mrs. Arnold Rue of 1725 West Alpine Street, and Harry C. Tremain of 1173 Rutledge Way. Mrs. Rue is president of the Stockton chapter of the American Association of University Women. Mr. Tremain is a teacher at Stockton and is a graduate of the College of the Pacific.

CALIF. HISTORY FOUNDATION HOLDS MEETING OVER WEEKEND

College of the Pacific's California History Foundation takes another step in furthering the study and research of California history, as it inaugurates its ninth annual program here this afternoon.

Miss Stockton Contest Mar. 20

The Miss Stockton pageant will be held on March 20 at the 540 Building, 540 N. California St., Stockton.

Candidates for Miss Stockton 1956 will be judged on the basis of their charm, poise, personality, intellect, talent, and beauty. This contest is preparatory to the Miss California Pageant in Santa Cruz and Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Each candidate will be offered help and instructions prior to the contest. Applications should be submitted as soon as possible to permit each candidate sufficient time for preparation. Applications should be mailed or delivered to: Mr. Wm. F. Flaherty, president, Stockton Junior Chamber of Commerce, c/o American Trust Company, 22 N. San Joaquin Street, Stockton.

Dr. Randolph Hutchins, Director of the Foundation, said he hopes for good student attendance, stressing that the speakers are of "the best in the field of Californiana."

Hubert Herring, noted historian and authority in Latin Americana, will address an expected capacity crowd at the foundation banquet tonight with "California Looks to Latin America."

Tomorrow's schedule includes Mrs. W. G. Paden, California author, speaking on "New Light on California History from the Old Documents," and Dr. Andrew F. Rolle, Occidental College history professor, discussing "The California of a Pioneer: William Heath Davis and His Times."

EXHIBITION

An exhibition of Western Americana items is slated tomorrow, featuring "Realia of the West," from the Therese Hamlin Pony Express Museum Collection in Stockton; a display of photographs depicting "pioneer California" from the collection of V. Covert Martin of Stockton; and the Reginald and Grace Stuart collection of Western Americana, on display in the California Room in Irving Martin Library.

Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt will make the first public presentation tomorrow of his autobiography, "Lifelong Californian: Recollections and Reflections," in which he has chronicled his life from his days at Napa College through the old University of Pacific, Johns Hopkins University, USC, and College of the Pacific.

Dr. Hunt was the first director of the California History Foundation.

The new autobiographer will also present with Dr. R. Coke Wood "The Conference of California Historical Societies" at the Foundation luncheon in Anderson Social Hall.

Following a meeting of the Board of Directors, a tea will be given in honor of Mrs. W. G. Paden at the home of Mrs. Gerald D. Kennedy in Stockton.

PACIFIC ART TEACHERS WIN SECOND PRIZES

Richard Reynolds, chairman of the College of the Pacific art department, will speak to the Tuesday Club on March 13. The Tuesday Club is a local gathering, the membership including new Stockton residents.

Mr. Reynolds will speak on the subject "Development of modern painting and sculpture."

Mr. Reynolds was recently awarded second prize in the Northern California Open Art Exhibition for his sculpture of a sandstone cat. The sculpture was displayed in the E. B. Crocker Gallery in Sacramento.

Mrs. Helen Dooley Hodgins of Pacific's art department was awarded second place in the water color division of the same exhibition.

TIGER NINE WINS 27-10

The hungry Tigers of College of the Pacific came through with a much deserved win over the Cal Aggies by a score of 27-10 last Saturday afternoon. In the first two innings of the game, the Cal Aggies pushed ahead 5-0. It looked as if the Tigers were going down for the 36th straight loss. Instead, the Tigers came hustling back to even the score, and then in the 5th inning, they scored 11 runs. This broke the Cal Aggie back.

Del Whittier was credited with the win although he was relieved by Wayne Segale in the 6th inning, when his shoulder started getting sore. Whittier came through with some good hitting, including a nice three-bagger. One of the more exciting plays of the game was a diving catch by Mason Hoburg in left field. On the whole Pacific's fielding, and batting was way above average. As an example of how good the batting was, Reynosa led the way with 3 hits for 3 times at bat, including a home run. Don Bossert did very well with 3 hits for 5 tries. Sowash hit 4 for 7. As a whole the team was hitting very well. The only casualty of the game was Reuben Gutierrez, who sprained his foot sliding into third base. Reuben, however, will be back in the game this Saturday.

Friday at one o'clock Pacific will meet Sacramento State at Oak Park, here in Stockton.

Saturday the Tigers go to San Francisco to meet San Francisco State. This is going to be a very tough double header, but if the boys play as well as they did against the Cal Aggies they could come out on top at this game, also.

RUGGERS LOSE 2

Last Wednesday, February 29th the Tiger Rugby team lost to Stanford by a 11-6 score and then on the following Saturday in Los Angeles lost to the UCLA Bruins 13-6.

Although COP came out on the short end of the score the Stanford contest was by far the best game the team had played this season. Up till four minutes before the end of the first half Pacific was leading by a 6-0 score on a penalty kick by Ken Swearingen and a try by Jack Meeks. In these last few minutes Stanford scored a penalty kick and then a missed penalty kick by the Red and White was recovered by Paul Wiggins for a Stanford score.

The second half was very well balanced with the exception of Dorsey Atkinson of Stanford going through the whole COP team for a try. Outstanding for the

Inter-Class Track Records

Two Inter-Class track records were broken despite wind, and a rain-soaked track.

Jack Marden turned in the outstanding performances of the day. He broke the mile inter-class record, he ran 4:25.8 to break Miller's Bengal team were Jack Larschied and Lynn Swanson in the backfield while in the scrum the whole team looked good with Jim Timms, Bob Lee and Jack O'Rourke standing out.

In the UCLA game the Tigers were again a first half club. Leading 6-0 at the half COP again blew a good lead to go down in defeat. Don Cornell and Ken Swearingen kicked one penalty kick each and missed three others from difficult angles. Tops for UCLA was converted football center Jim Matheney who scored ten of their thirteen points.

record of 4:26.1 which he set in 1940. Marden also ran the half mile, missing the record by only one tenth of a second at 1:57 flat.

George Lane, the Los Banos Flash, was the other record breaker. He put the shot to a new record of 48' 5 1/2 inches bettering George Ker's record of 47' 9 inches, which he set in 1947.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer works on new ways to remove heat from atomic reactors

An atomic reactor running at full efficiency creates a tremendous amount of heat in its core. By removing this heat and putting it to work boiling water to make steam, atom-made electricity is produced.

One of the men responsible for designing new, more efficient ways to remove heat from atomic reactors is 29-year-old Doctor Salomon Levy — Design Analysis supervisor in the Atomic Power Equipment Department's Reactor Engineering Unit.

Levy's Work Interesting, Vital

To study this problem of heat transfer, G.E. recently constructed a heat-transfer system. By electrically simulating the heat produced in a reactor, it is possible to determine the maximum rate at which heat can be removed from a reactor to make steam.

Dr. Levy conceived the idea of building this complex system, designed it and supervised its construction. At present, Levy works with this system to study new problems of heat transfer and fluid flow encountered in atomic power plants.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Salomon Levy came to General Electric in 1953, he already knew the kind of work he wanted to do. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given his chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: Whenever fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York

DR. SALOMON LEVY joined G.E. in 1953 after receiving his B.S. in M.E. from the Univ. of Calif. in 1949. In 1951 he received his M.S., and in 1953 his Ph.D. From '49-'50 he was teaching assistant at U. of C., and '50-'53 he was Junior Research Engineer at the Institution of Engineering Research.

EDITORIAL

It has been said that everyone complains about the weather, but no one does anything about it. Actually, there is very little any of us can do about the weather. There is, however, much we can do about most of the other complaints that are voiced so freely, but never acted upon.

The senate of the College of the Pacific is a student-run governing body, and it attempts to follow the wishes of the student body.... but it cannot follow those wishes if they are not known. Much of the time the students grumble to themselves, but seldom avail themselves of the channels which might see the solution of their problems.

Such channels are the beef box in the administration, the PACIFIC WEEKLY, and the student affairs commission. All of these media are at the service of anyone who will take the initiative to positive action.

Though no letters have been written to the WEEKLY on campus problems, several situations and complaints have been brought to our attention. The campus streets look as though the administration were planning to evacuate the college for another site. The lighting problem on campus is vital, for at not one point is there adequate lighting for persons walking to and from buildings. Parking in sorority circle is a job for the master mind, for once getting in, it is well nigh impossible to get out, and once out, impossible to return. If the student affairs commission is looking for problems, here are a few suggestions.

If you, an active Pacific student, feel you know of problems or situations needing work, put your suggestions in the beef box, the PACIFIC WEEKLY, or turn them into the student affairs commission.

WEAR-EVER NEEDS MEN

Throughout its fifty-five year history, Wear-Ever has been offering a business opportunity to men from the nation's leading universities and colleges. Today the company is managed almost entirely by college-trained men.

Many of Wear-Ever's executives, district sales managers, and division sales managers started their careers with Wear-Ever while attending college, teaching, or coaching.

Mr. V. E. Lamb, division sales manager, will be on the campus Tuesday, March 13 at 4 PM to explain Wear-Ever's program. The meeting will be held upstairs in the Anderson Y.

frenetic frosh

Frosh class spirit can be compared to the ocean. At the beginning of the school year, high tide; now spirit is at ebb tide. Come on, let's become inundated with both class and school spirit.

SEMANTICS OF THE WORDS "EXCUSE ME"

An intelligent coed in the freshman class, who shall remain nameless, has a new way to cut class. Miss C. walked into a class hiccuping and said "excuse me." The teacher replied, "you're excused." That was the last seen of Miss C. for the rest of the period. Miss C. is still wondering why her absence is being counted as a cut!

"Um, good" — these will be your words after tasting a piece of cake from the Frosh class, Sunday, April 15. The price will be only ten and fifteen cents per slice. An added attraction will be the freshman girls who will go around to the various living groups selling the cake. Remember, April 15, 1956, is the Frosh cake sale.

"QUIET, PLEASE"

Strange as it may seem to some students, when a person goes to the library he wishes to study. These people do not care to hear about Jane's latest crush or Bill's new car — let's show our comprehension of the sign, "Quiet, Please."

"HOW COME" DEPARTMENT?

A wife deliberately gave her husband something to eat which, although it was not poisonous, was the direct cause of his death. Upon inquiry, this fact was established; however, she was not arrested or prosecuted. How come? Read this column next week for the answer.

CHAPEL

Chapel service for March 13 will be a hymn sing. The leader will be Hal Barnett; interpreter will be John Corson; and Chapel Choir will sing.

ACE TEST

The ACE test for credential candidates will be given Tuesday, March 20, at 4:00 p.m. Candidates who do not have the results of this test in their records should be sure to take it at this time.
